

School Environmental Changes

Your students are participating in Steps to Health. To help support the Steps to Health nutrition and physical activity messages, here are some simple suggestions for creating a healthier school environment in the classroom, cafeteria, and with school personnel. Choose a few to focus on throughout the year. Keep this list as a reference.

CLASSROOM

- ☐ Make water the beverage of choice in the classroom.
- ☐ Have a discussion each week on new foods students tried in the cafeteria.
- ☐ Develop a plan with students on ways to be active on the weekends.
- ☐ Eat and drink only healthy snacks or beverages in front of students.
- ☐ Promote fruit or vegetable-only snacks on certain days.
- ☐ Provide activities for all students to engage in active play during recess or physical education.
- ☐ Give students 1-2 minute activity breaks throughout the day.
- ☐ Avoid withholding physical activity opportunities as a form of punishment.
- ☐ Before lunch, review how the menu fits into MyPlate recommendations and which healthy menu items the students are going to choose.
- ☐ Have a farm day and ask a local farmer to talk about where foods come from and what grows in your county.
- ☐ Replace food rewards with other fun inexpensive incentives like stickers or pencils.

SCHOOL-WIDE

- ☐ Partner with your local hospital or other local non-profits to provide pedometers. Have a step challenge—see how long it takes students to “walk” across their county, the state, or the US by recording their weekly steps.
- ☐ Conduct essay contests on the topic of nutrition and health. Winners can read their entries during school assemblies.

SCHOOL-WIDE Continued

- ☐ Provide families with information on local parks and recreation programs.
- ☐ Allow for after-hours use of playgrounds and gyms.
- ☐ Encourage teachers not to drink sugar-sweetened beverages like soda during school hours.
- ☐ Promote the National School Breakfast and Lunch programs.
- ☐ Start a staff walking club or other fitness groups.
- ☐ Post bulletin boards to promote healthy eating and increased activity for staff and students.
- ☐ Contact your local Cooperative Extension Service to start a school garden with a Master Gardener.
- ☐ Conduct fundraisers or boosters that support good health through selling healthy foods or nonfood items.
- ☐ Implement a walk or bike to school program.

CAFETERIA

- ☐ Post colorful posters promoting healthy foods.
- ☐ Give students an opportunity for menu input.
- ☐ Provide more whole grain and low sugar a-la-carte menu items.
- ☐ Place healthy menu items in locations and in lighting so they are visible and easy to choose.
